

Taft Arrives in Cincinnati; Jokes Scribes

Met at Depot by Brother and Devotes Day to Old Yale Chums.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 27.—Secretary of War William H. Taft arrived in Cincinnati today and was met at the station by his brother, Charles P. Taft, and a group of newspapermen. The membership of the Yale Club had intended to be present and make a demonstration in honor of their old college chum, but were prevailed upon to abandon the idea. The Secretary stepped from the sleeper to grasp the hand of Charles P. Taft. Directly behind the Secretary was Mrs. Taft.

Secretary Taft was set upon by the newspapermen.

"Hello, boys, have you all come down here to greet a wandering—here he hesitated. 'A wandering Jew,' suggested one of the boys.

"No," laughed the Secretary. "A wandering public official—a peripatetic."

The newspapermen admitted that this was the object of their journey. They were all asked to return later after he had breakfasted, and he would talk to them.

"But, remember," he cautioned, "I have nothing to say."

Secretary Taft then ran into the battery of photographers. He good-naturedly posed for them. Then he was driven to the home of his brother.

A busy day has been mapped out for the Secretary. At 11 o'clock he will attend the convention of the Associated Western Yale Clubs at the Sinton Hotel.

At 1 o'clock, with the rest of the Yale men, he will take luncheon at the University Club. At 7 o'clock he will preside at the annual banquet of the association at the Sinton Hotel.

BEAUTY EXHIBIT OPEN TO PUBLIC MONDAY MORNING

Artist Decorators Arrange Pictures, Received by Times, at Kann's Store.

A half-dozen artist decorators are busily at work today on the fifth floor of the S. Kann, Sons & Co. building preparing the art and beauty exhibition of photographs entered in the great Sunday Times Beauty Contest. It had been hoped to have the exhibition opened yesterday afternoon, but the task of handling the 1,800 pictures proved a greater one than had been anticipated. The pictures will all be placed by tonight, however, and the exhibition will be formally opened to the public on Monday morning.

Hundreds of people crowded to the fifth floor yesterday and this morning, but were disappointed in gaining a view of the galaxy of beauty. Kann's, determined to make the display in every sense an art exhibit, have gone to considerable expense in fitting up a suitable apartment where the photographs may be seen under the most favorable conditions.

A large space on the fifth floor where the light is exceptionally good has been curtained off with dark green cloth ten feet high and uncovered at the top. Upon these walls of cloth hundreds of the pictures are arranged in artistic groups, while the smaller lot, set out on pretty easels occupying the floor space. The whole effect is one of extreme beauty and calculated to hold the attention and interest of the visitor for hours.

Nothing like this display of pictured feminine loveliness was ever before seen in Washington, and it is expected that many thousands will visit the beauty gallery during the week it will be open.

FAIRIES' CARNIVAL DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Far up on a mountain top, in a little space hedged about with pine trees through which one could look out over a beautiful valley, little fairies met last night and held a dancing carnival. A fairy scene of this kind was presented at the Belasco last evening to a large audience that came to see the pupils of Miss Hawke in their spring festival and exhibition of character and fancy dancing.

While the program as a whole was extremely well done, some of the numbers brought out special approval. The song, "The Moon Has His Eye on You," and the accompanying dance by Dorothy Leitzel, Virginia Warren, Dorothy Hogan, Irene Low, and Dorothy Garner was one of the first hits of the smaller performers. Mabel Kirby in the song and dance, "Won't You Be My Teddy Bear," was a feature of the evening.

One of the prettiest of the duets was "Supper," in which Mildred de Hart and Imogene Taylor took part. Little Miss Imogene in a white and blue sailor suit made a most attractive boy.

Another pleasing novelty was the skating song by Elsie Sheetz and the chorus of roller skaters, including Messrs. A. Robinson, K. Alderman, M. McCain, M. Kirby, K. Hodgkin, and Masters J. McCain, E. Donn, S. Brenner, and I. Cosgrove.

Elizabeth Forney and Margaret Tucker did some clever toe dancing. A very pretty effect was produced in the Scotch songs and fling by Katherine Alderman, assisted by Misses E. Sheetz, M. McCain, A. Robinson, A. Howell, E. Patterson, D. Hodgkin, K. Hodgkin, E. Brown, M. Saxton, M. Hudson, J. Poole, M. Tucker, B. Cosgrove, M. De Hart, P. Sullivan, E. Wright, M. Robinson, H. Fischer, R. Shaw, Masters J. McCain, S. Brenner, E. Donn, I. Cosgrove. The Spanish dance by Mary McCain was a skillful and graceful bit of work.

POLICE CHIEF ROBBED IN HIS OWN CITY

JACKSON, Mich., April 27.—While strolling through the streets last night, Chief of Police Boyle, of this city, was robbed by three men and of his $300 diamond watch. He now has his entire department out looking for the nifty thief and his "sparkler."

THE MODERN WAY A Scientific Remedy for Most Prevalent Disease

Dyspepsia and Constipation are the terrible maladies that are sweeping off tens of thousands of human beings and making life miserable for millions more. They are alarmingly prevalent and a parent of evil, giving rise to an innumerable list of ills. We, therefore, discuss them for the reason that if the bowels are kept from being constipated, by far the greater part of all of the suffering and sickness in the world will be avoided. No person can look well, feel well or be well while a costive habit prevails; besides very soon it assists in developing serious and even fatal diseases. It leads to partial paralysis of the whole intestinal structure which is due to the presence and pressure of large quantities of hard fecal matter. The reabsorption of this fecal mass, occurring in all constipated persons, vitiates and enfeebles the whole system and poisons the blood, and Dyspepsia, the death-dealing power of constipation is indicated by the following unfavorable symptoms: Dull, heavy headache, sometimes accompanied by dizziness, stupor, languidness, always tired, bad breath, coated tongue, loss of appetite, often abdominal pains, scant urine of high color, pain in back, torpid liver, which in its turn sets in motion another whole train of evils, such as bilious disorders, sick headache, skin diseases, pimples, blotches, a muddy, doughy complexion, sore eyes, dyspepsia, jaundice, flatulency, nausea, water brash, hemorrhoids or piles, provokes rheumatic poisons to violent activity, and produces a liability to colic gastric catarrh, and catarrh of the mucous membrane in general, neuralgia, general feebleness with frequent chills, etc.

The following simple prescription will give immediate relief and effect a permanent cure for the above named conditions: T. Cinchona Compound, 2½ oz.; Kastr Compound, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract of Cascara Aromatic, 1 oz.

Purchase the ingredients and prepare this yourself or have your local druggist to prepare it for you, and take a teaspoonful after each meal, and at bed time if necessary.

Representatives and Senators Poorly Treated

"Sore" is the word that most aptly describes the feelings of the Congressional party that attended the opening day of the exposition.

These Senators and Representatives, while disclaiming in emphatic terms any belief that the intentions of the exposition authorities were anything but most hospitable, were disagreeably surprised by the fact that not enough seats were provided for their party in the grand stand, where the President spoke and the parade was witnessed.

It was stated by a member of the party in this city today that the venerable senior Senator from Virginia, John W. Daniel, had to walk more than a mile at his crutches to reach the grand stand, and one of the private secretaries who accompanied the party had to seize a carriage by sheer force in which to convey Speaker Cannon to Norfolk, after the exercises were over.

Some members of the party, instead of getting the luncheon that had been prepared for them, had to go to a nearby restaurant and eat stew and drink beer of a poor brand.

One Representative, as he stood outside the grand stand yesterday, remarked:

"The Congressional party is very sore about the way they have been treated."

Judge Kimball Absent.

Judge Kimball, of the Police Court, and Mrs. Kimball, left town today for Boston, to remain a week. During Judge Kimball's absence Judge O'Neil will act in his place. Mrs. Kimball, who has been in ill health since the death of her daughter, will probably remain in Boston for some time.

Presidential Party Go Up the James; Visit Landmarks

NORFOLK, Va., April 27.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their party are visiting the historic landmarks of the James river today. They were transferred in a launch from the Mayflower to the Sylph early today, and will remain on board the smaller boat until she returns to Hampton Roads this evening, except when they disembark for the half hour visits they have planned to make at Westover, Brandon, Shirley, and the picturesque ruin of the old church at Jamestown, where the first English settlement on the continent was established 39 years ago.

At Brandon, which is the ancestral estate of the Harrison family, the Presidential party will be entertained in the oldest colonial mansion in Virginia, which is still in a fine state of preservation. Westover is the name of the old home of the Byrds, and Shirley is a Pilgrimage.

The weather today is about as disagreeable as it could be without an actual downpour to mar the pleasure of the President's trip. There was a heavy storm during the night, and the lowering clouds give promise of more rain.

This is Maryland day at the exposition, and although many of the streets and paths are almost impassable from the mud and miniature lakes left by the weather.

DESPONDENT, ILL, COMMITS SUICIDE

NEW YORK, April 27.—Despondent from long illness, Mrs. Clementine George, aged twenty-four, plunged through a window of her apartment on the fifth floor of a West Sixty-first street apartment house, sustaining probably fatal injuries. She was hurried to Roosevelt Hospital, where her death is momentarily expected.

Mrs. George was sitting in the dining room with her husband and mother when the suicidal frenzy seized her. Shrieking a farewell to them, she leaped from the chair and jumped through the casement, carrying the broken window with her, while people on the sidewalk below were showered with splintered glass.

GERMANY DISLIKES FREEZE-OUT GAME

PARIS, April 27.—Much comment was caused here today by the statement of Herr Semler, leader of the National Liberals in the German reichstag, regarding the Franco-English entente.

"Peace," he said, "is endangered by the attempts made to isolate Germany by alliances. That is England's policy. It is not England that runs risks, but the question may be asked whether Germany will not be compelled to act without waiting attack."

"Whether England or Germany declares war, France will have to decide within twenty-four hours in favor of one or the other. The Franco-Russo alliance was a guarantee of peace, but Franco-English entente risks every instant provoking a Franco-German war."
